Model 2

What the website was: Facebook is a website for personal social networking which was launched in February 2004. By January 2011, Facebook had more than 600 million active users.

How you found the address for this website: I signed up for my own account in 2008 after being introduced to it by my friends.

What the website contains and why it was useful to you: Users may create a personal profile, and then add other users as friends and exchange messages. It is quite convenient for users to know what their friends are doing when they update their profile.

Users can join common interest user groups, organised by their workplace, school, or others. As an international student in Sydney, I take every chance to integrate myself into the local community. Facebook is a good platform which can serve this purpose.

Through it, I have made friends with many local students as well as other international students. Because of Facebook, I was able to make many foreign friends and expose myself to western culture.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.
