Topic 1—Lesson 1(上篇)

An impressive advertisement

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

	Compound Words: (the parts in bold should be stressed) pain killer
	party animal flash light
	pan cake

Read the following compound words and circle the parts that need to be stressed.

1. fingernail
2. hard drive
3. cable car

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

How was your first day of college?

What difficulties did you meet in your studies?

What are the courses that you disliked the most?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

orientation

Example: My first day of college was memorable and exciting! After moving into the dormitory I attended the special college orientation. The best part of that first day was meeting so many new people with different backgrounds and interests. Although at the end of my first day I was a bit nervous about sleeping in a building filled with so many of my peers, as I had heard rumors about pranks!

advanced calculus

Example: I have never been very good with complex equations and a major requirement for my first year of studies was an advanced calculus class. Needless to say, this course dealing with abstract theorems was composed of the most boring lectures that caused me to have so many sleepless nights! Another issue I had at college wasn't related to courses, but to my extremely loud but indifferent roommate. His instance on sleeping with his stereo on added to my many nights of sleeplessness.

syllabus

Example: Besides the aforementioned math related course, I also disliked many of my courses on philosophy. To begin with, the courses had the densest syllabuses, which made it nearly impossible to actually read all of the materials required. The worst part about these classes was the fact that they were so abstract that they required a lot of time and energy in order to fully comprehend each lesson.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe an advertisement you saw which impressed you a lot.

- What was the advertisement for?
- When and where did you see it?
- Does it have a spokesman?
- Why did this advertisement impress you?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What it was for: An advertisement that left a lasting impression on me was an ad for an insurance agency.

When and where you saw it: I happened to see this particularly humorous ad while I was surfing the Internet one morning. I remember I had gotten up extra early on a very chilly December morning so that I could watch my favourite news show when I stumbled across it.

Why this advertisement impressed you: It impressed me the most because of how hilariously accurate it was. These sets of advertisements all have the overarching theme of “moms always call at the worst possible time.” The ad I saw that morning was about a spy running from men with guns and right before he got to the helicopter his phone rang. It was his mom talking about squirrels in the back yard! The point of this advertisement is that we cannot control the actions of other people and that we can never plan for the unexpected. To tell you the truth, this ad made me seriously contemplate buying insurance for the first time in my life. So even though the ad used a comedy as the delivery method to impress its audience, it has succeeded in influencing my outlook on life.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe an advertisement you saw which impressed you a lot.

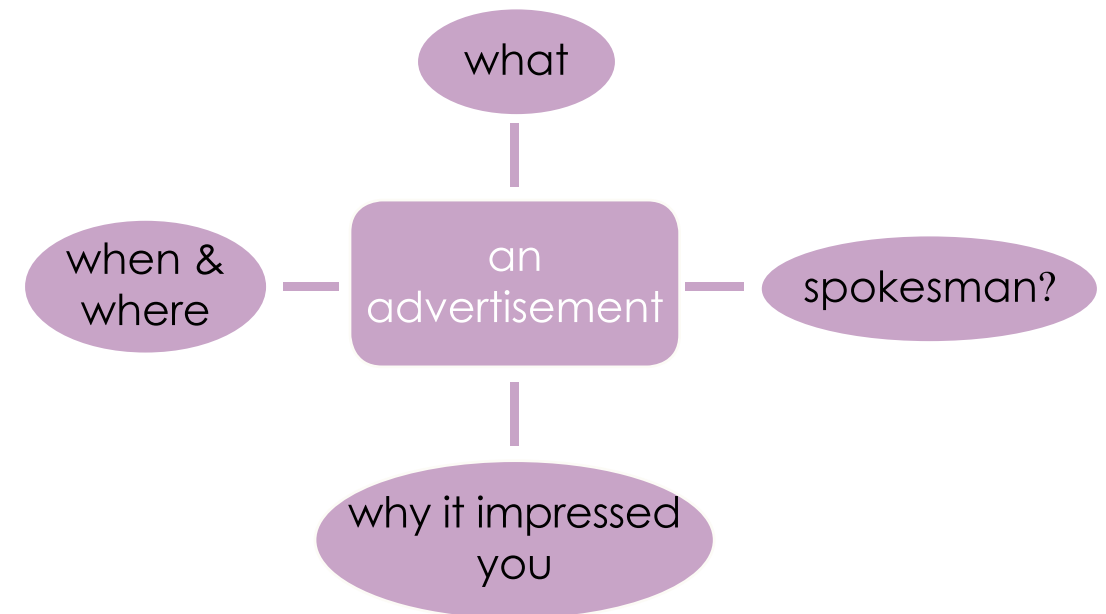

You should say:

what the advertisement was for

when and where you saw it whether it has a spokesman or not and explain why this advertisement impressed you a lot.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a funny story.

Describe something you watched on TV.
