

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced

雅思口语高级

——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 11 Education

Topic 2—Lesson 1(上篇)

A rule in school

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

Sound Reductions

Reductions of 'and': 'and' is often reduced to 'n'.

Reductions of 'for': 'for' is often reduced and changed to 'fer'.

Read the following sentences and pay attention to 'and' and 'for'.

1. I like movies and books. ('n')
2. What's for lunch? ('fer')

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

When did you last hear a piece of good news?

In general, what types of media are the most popular in China?

What kind of news are you interested in?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

unethical

 Example: The best bit of news was received about two weeks ago when I heard that a famous cosmetics brand had finally ceased its unethical animal testing programme. I consider myself an animal activist, so anytime I hear about any unfair treatment of animals, I do my best to spread the news on various social media sites and forums.

out of the ordinary

 Example: The media is the same in every country and the only difference is whether you have access to it, so China does not provide anything out of the ordinary in this respect. Similar to other industrialised countries, the television, magazines, and newspapers used to be the main media for entertainment and for receiving the news until the Internet burst onto the scene. Now most Chinese people use their mobile phones and laptops as their main communication channels.

put into action

 Example: I am mostly interested in news about politics and science. Political news interests me mainly because policies that are chosen or put into action will normally have a big impact on society and myself, which is of course useful information to know. Scientific news is always interesting and always refreshing as new discoveries are being made all the time in the field of science.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a rule in school you agree or disagree with.

- What is the rule?
- Why is it needed?
- How is the rule enforced?
- Why do you agree or disagree with this rule?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What the rule is: Over the years I have come to find that a school's rulebook is the equivalent of the Bible for the Christian religion. All of the rules listed in the book are important and are there for specific reasons. The rule that I regard as the most important is the rule defining truancy.

Why it's needed: In order for the students to truly learn and grasp the difficult concepts being thrown at them in school, it is important for them to actually attend class.

How it's enforced: Normally, each student is kept track of through a system of roll call. Each teacher at the beginning of the school day will mark whether a student is present, absent, or tardy. When a student is absent, they are usually required to submit a reason and if no valid reason is given, it will go against their total days allowed to be absent all year. If a student goes beyond the allowed amount of days, his or her grades will suffer and will be punished in whatever way the school sees fit. Conversely, tardy students will usually receive minor punishments such as extra homework or staying after school for extra duties.

Why you agree or disagree with it: These types of rules in school correct vital behaviours that are needed once one has graduated from both high school and college.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a rule in school you agree or disagree with.

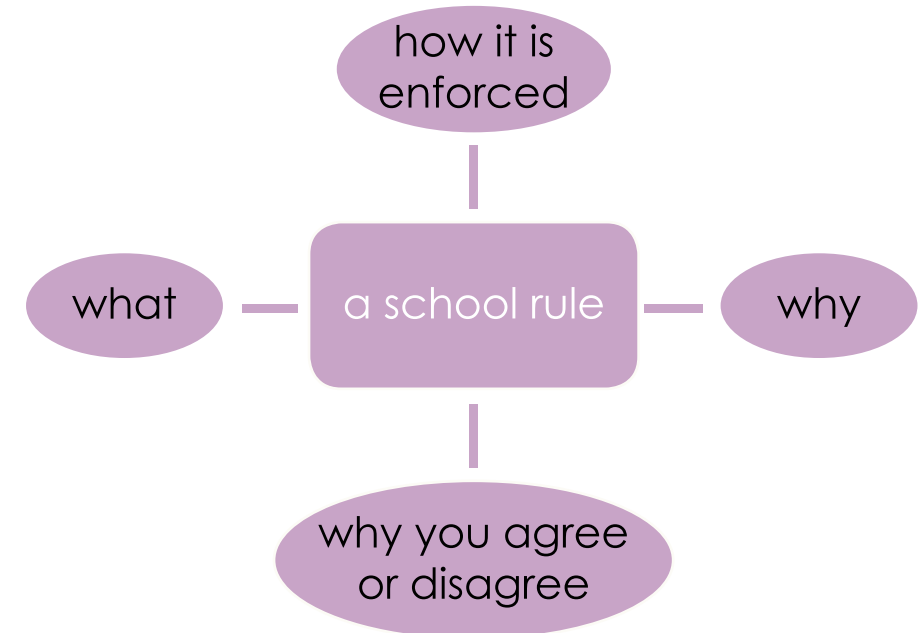

You should say:

what the rule is

why it is needed

how the rule is enforced

and explain why you agree or disagree with this rule.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a rule you agree with.

Describe a rule you disagree with.

Review (2 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

unethical

out of the ordinary

put into action

truancy

tardy

submit

Key Sentences

The best bit of news was received about two weeks ago when I heard that a famous cosmetics brand had finally ceased its unethical animal testing programme.

There is the same in every country and the only difference is whether you have access to it, so China does not provide anything out of the ordinary in this respect.

Political news interests me mainly because policies that are chosen or put into action will normally have a big impact on society and myself, which is of course useful information to know.

The rule that I regard as the most important is the rule defining truancy.

Each teacher at the beginning of the school day will mark whether a student is present, absent, or tardy.

When a student is absent, they are usually required to submit a reason and if no valid reason is given, it will go against their total days allowed to be absent all year.

You will learn more about this topic in Lesson 2.