Unit 2 Food

Topic 3—Lesson 1(上篇)

A meal you particularly enjoyed

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

Rising and Falling Tone

Example:

Er, she weighs everything very quickly... and you can't bargain with her... but the price is always reasonable.

Read the following sentences and mark the tone of the words in red.

1. ...we're students, so we can't afford to eat in restaurants very often.
2. I really like going to the local market.
3. ...everything you get there's fantastic- it's fresh.

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

Do you like shopping? If no, why not? If yes, why?

How do you like those expensive name brands?

What recent changes have there been in the types of shops or the kinds of goods available where you live?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

bustle

Example: I personally despise shopping, although I know that's unusual. The bustle, the waiting in line, the crowds, and the salespeople all grate on me. To be honest, the online shopping revolution has been a godsend for me, as it allows me to purchase all that I require from the comfort of my own home, and I could spend my spare time doing anything else I enjoy.

superficial

Example: As a practical shopper, I generally look for better quality over what brand a particular product happens to be. I find people who are overly brand conscious to be superficial and money-oriented, and don't associate with them. I find it ridiculous that products of equivalent usage can be priced wildly differently due to a logo or tag.

noticeable

Example: In Beijing, there's been a noticeable increase in the variety and amount of foreign foodstuffs available for purchase, especially when it comes to cheese. I'm a bit of a cheese fanatic, so this has been quite the welcoming development for me. Additionally, imported craft lagers and ales have become purchasable on many online vendors, oftentimes with same-day delivery.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a meal you particularly enjoyed.

- Where did you eat it?
- What did you eat?
- Who were you with?
- Why did you enjoy it?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

Where & who: I remember a meal I had at a friend's birthday party when I was just thirteen years old. Back then it was all the rage to have your birthday party in your fenced backyard, and this particular affair made a lasting impression due to the food my friend's mom decided to showcase for us all.

What: She called to us from inside the house, where the moms were all busy conversing, to announce that it was time to eat what she called fruit pizza. I remember it was made with cookie crust and instead of regular cheese and tomato sauce, it was smeared in crème cheese, and instead of being topped with meat or vegetables, it was, as the name implies, topped with various fruits.

Why: Needless to say, that party and that dessert have always made me consider other creative ways to prepare non-traditional dishes, or to be exact, ask my mother to cook these types of exotic far out meals. Now whenever my mother asks me if I want anything specially made as a meal for my birthday or any other special occasion, I will inevitably answer, "fruit pizza, please".

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a meal you particularly enjoyed.

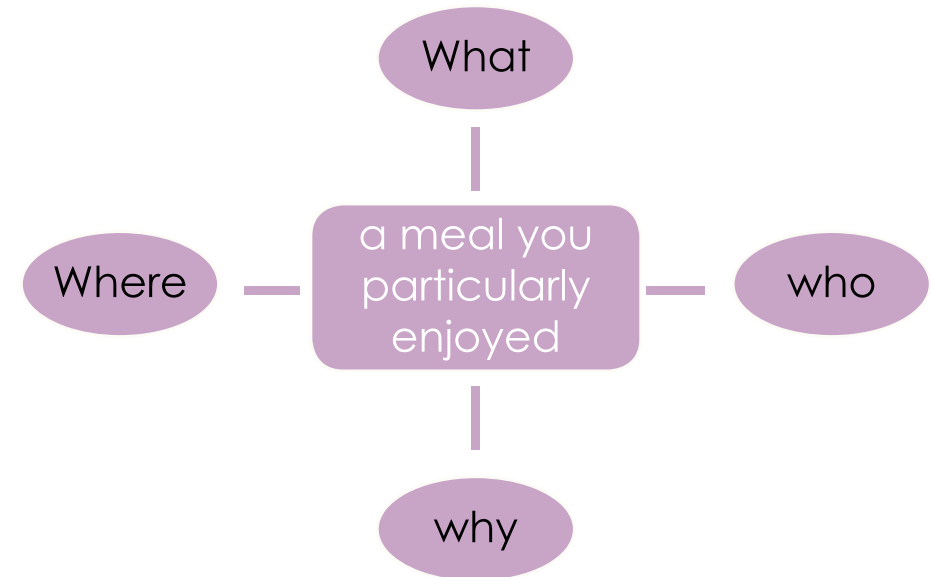

You should say:

where you ate it

what you ate

who you were with

and explain why you enjoyed it.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe one of your favourite dishes.

Describe your favourite cuisine.

Key Sentences

The bustle, the waiting in line, the crowds, and the salespeople all grate on me.

I find people who are overly brand conscious to be superficial and money-oriented, and don't associate with them.

In Beijing, there's been a noticeable increase in the variety and amount of foreign foodstuffs available for purchase, especially when it comes to cheese.

This particular affair made a lasting impression due to the food my friend's mom decided to showcase for us all.

Instead of regular cheese and tomato sauce it was smeared in crème cheese.

The pizza is of course a traditional meal and not a dessert, yet this fruit pizza dish overturned that popular convention.

You will learn more about this topic in Lesson 2.
