I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

the Contracted Forms of 'will'

I'll We'll

It'll There'll

Won't You'll

Read the following sentences and pay attention to the contracted forms of 'will'.

1. It'll be more convenient to learn English via the Internet.
2. There'll be sufficient chances for anyone diligent.
3. I'll have access to online resource using this code.
4. I won't have to suffer enormous pressure sharing the rent with my roommate.

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

How has the food in your country changed since you were a child?

How important is farming in your country?

Do you think there will be enough food in your country? Why/why not?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

spread out

Example: I wouldn't necessarily say the food has changed since I was a child; however, ease of access to food has changed quite a bit. When I was a child there were mainly little stalls filled with fresh fruits and vegetables from the countryside, but these family owned markets were spread out and difficult to travel to. Currently, these side street markets have been replaced by western style supermarkets and are located on almost every corner, making it much easier to gain access to the food.

crowning achievement

Example: I think agriculture is a staple of humanity and our crowning achievement, and in China farming is especially important. Since we have such a booming population, our farms and farmers are the first line of defense against mass starvation and hunger. Without farmers producing rice, which is China's greatest food asset, I venture to imagine that the population of our country would be relatively small and not as healthy.

adept at

Example: In the modern era humanity has been adept at finding creative methods to enhance our food supply even as more land is allocated to urbanisation. Of course you can agree or disagree, as the future cannot be predicted and I assume nothing for what the future holds, because global warming could just as easily have drastic implications to the food supply not just in China, but all over the world.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a picnic or meal that you ate outdoors.

- Where did you have this meal?
- Who was with you?
- What did you eat and drink?
- Why did you eat outdoors?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

Where you had this meal: Given the horrendous state of the weather where I'm from, the chances for a picnic are infrequent and rare. However, that being said, one particular memorable occasion was one of my last meals out with my friends at school, I suppose. The house, though small, had a cozy homely feel and the company were some of the loveliest people I've had the joy of knowing.

Who was with you: That night I had the pleasure of getting together with a few friends and had a picnic with his family in his back garden.

What you ate and drank: The night got off to a pretty disappointing start in terms of cooking, primarily due to our utter incompetence to such a delicate art. After a few attempts, many an hour wasted, but we managed to get a rather feeble looking fire going, and the cooking was finally underway. We started with a succulent plate of marinated chicken, which was simply tasty. We then went on to consume a disturbing number of burgers and kebabs before finishing it off with a fruit salad.

Why you ate outdoors: The meal itself was no doubt delicious. However, the significance came from the fact that it all seemed a bit final to me, because it was our last meal together. I do hope I'll have the opportunity to see them all again.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a picnic or meal that you ate outdoors:

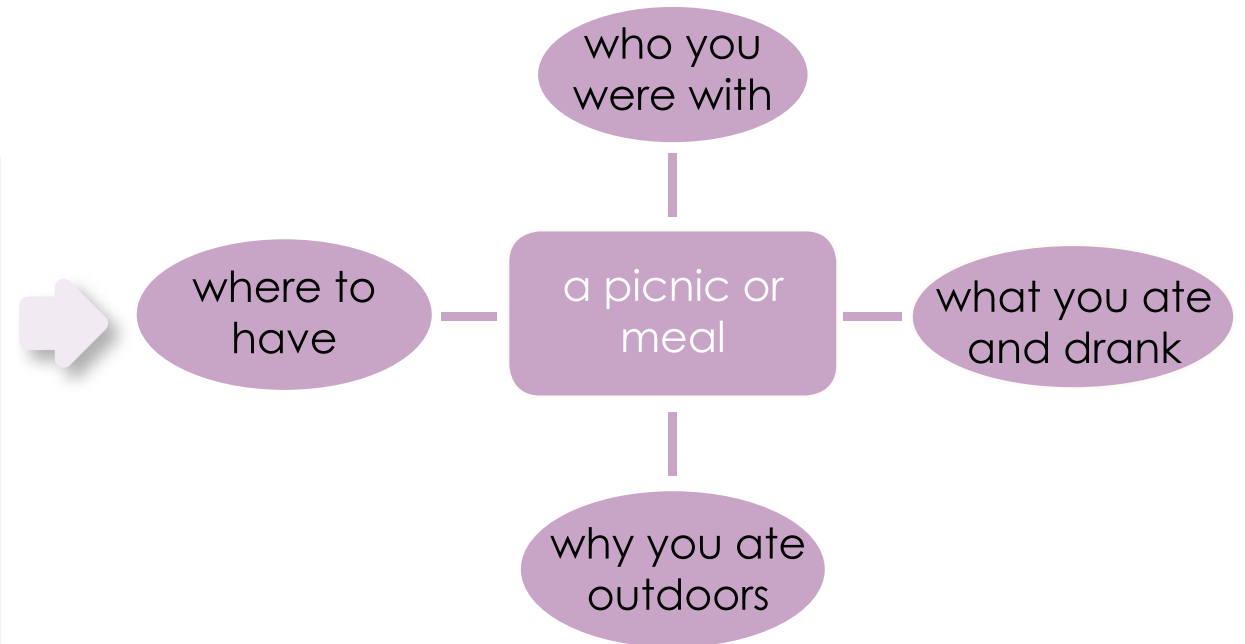

You should say:

where you had this meal

who was with you

what you ate and drank

and explain why you ate outdoors.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a very special meal with your friends.

Describe a terrible dinner you had.
