

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced

雅思口语高级

——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 1 People

Topic 1—Lesson 1(上篇)

A family member you like

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

Linking Vowel Sounds

(When a word ends in a vowel sound and the next begins with a vowel sound, insert /j/ between them.)

Example:

buy /j/ apples rely/j/ on

Read the following expressions and try to link the vowel sounds.

1. I see /j/ it.

2. supply and demand

3. coffee or cocoa

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

Do you enjoy dancing? Why/Why not?

Has anyone ever taught you to dance? If yes, when? If no, why not?

Do you think that traditional dancing will be popular in the future?
Why/Why not?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

have two left feet

Example: To be frank, I really hate everything about dancing, simply because I have two left feet. There is not an ounce of rhythm in my bones, so I avoid the dance floor as if it were occupied by snakes! Although my friends have tried to encourage me to learn dancing, it's an impossible endeavour. Thus, to avoid embarrassment, I refuse any invitations to dance.

venture to

Example: Few have ventured to teach me the art of dance and have failed miserably. One such occasion, as far as I can recall, was in high school. My ex-girlfriend attempted to teach me by way of imitation. However, you cannot really teach someone how to feel sound when he is simply not a gifted dancer.

persist

Example: I will try my best to give a logical answer here. If we point to history as an example, we can see that traditional forms of dance have persisted through the ages and do not necessarily rely on a specific culture. Take square dancing for example. Although the style might be slightly different from its origin, it is nonetheless more popular than ever in the United States in the 21st century.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe someone in your family who you like.

- How is this person related to you?
- What does this person look like?
- What kind of person is he/she?
- Why do you like this person?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

Who & how: This is a tough question to answer, as I honestly like everyone in my family, but if I had to pick a family member I am most fond of, it would have to be my father.

What: My father has a pleasant appearance, probably owing to his carefree attitude. Since my father spent many years studying to become a doctor, he has many wrinkles that are associated with deep thought as well as multiple white hairs upon his head, which he refuses to dye.

What kind: My father is always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. In fact, he is the kind of person that would stop in the middle of the road to assist others generously, either a person or an animal.

Why: In addition to that, my father has developed a keen intellect through years of mediation and study. He is by all standards wise beyond his years. And he has always been there for me when I needed advice or just someone to talk to. Another trait that makes him so amazing is his ability to always look on the bright side of life, which has also led to me being more of an optimist myself.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe someone in your family who you like.

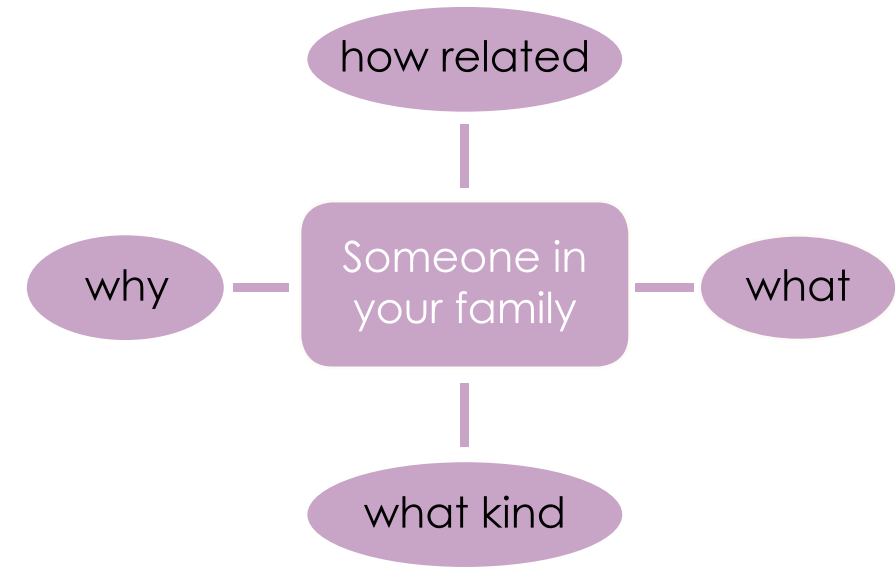

You should say:

how this person is related to you

what this person looks like what kind of person he/she is and explain why you like this person.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe someone you grew up with.

Describe a member in your family.

Review (2 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

have two left feet

venture to

persist

lend a helping hand to

by all standards

trait

Key Sentences

To be frank, I have a great personal disdain for dancing, which might stem from me having two left feet.

Few have ventured to teach me the art of dance and have failed miserably. One such occasion, as far as I can recall, was in high school.

If we point to history as an example, we can see that traditional forms of dance have persisted through the ages and are not even contingent on a specific culture.

My father is always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need.

He is by all standards wise beyond his years.

Another trait that makes him so amazing is his ability to always look on the bright side of life.

You will learn more about this topic in Lesson 2.