

51Talk IELTS Speaking-Advanced

雅思口语高级

——冲刺 7.5 分

Unit 2 Food

Topic 6—Lesson 1(上篇)

A foreign food you would like to try

I. Pronunciation Practice (2 minutes)

No 'r' in Spelling, No Tongue Rolling study often cause idea all sturdy orphan course dear or

Read the following words and pay attention to the letter 'r'.

1. I often study in the library because I have received all of my best ideas there.
2. The orphan wasn't sturdy, so he attended some physical training courses.

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

Do you prefer casual clothes or formal clothes?

Do you think people should wear uniforms in their workplace?

Do men and women have different taste in clothes?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

breathable material

Example: To be completely honest, I prefer the comfort that casual clothes imparts to its wearers. Casual clothes allow one to be totally comfortable, which is usually a side effect of their loose fit and breathable material. You just do not get the same level of comfort from the more rigid fit and hotter materials that formal clothes can offer.

legitimate

Example: This really comes down to what particular job or types of jobs you are referring to. Most jobs in the service industry require some types of uniforms in order to denote their positions, which also shows what specific duty they perform. Two other professional areas that require uniforms are the emergency service sector and law enforcement sector. If these jobs did not have uniforms, citizens would not be able to confirm whether these workers are legitimate and safe to ask for lifesaving help.

metrosexual

Example: I think men and women typically value clothes similarly and will have tastes that are relevant to their gender. For the most part both men and women shop for specific outfits that are used for particular functions in their lives. I assume that for women clothes are valued more for their fashion appeal, whereas for most men, not counting metrosexuals, clothes are more practical.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a foreign food you would like to try.

- What is it?
- Where can you eat it?
- How do you know about this food?
- Why would you like to try it?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What it is: As a gastronome, I have always prided myself upon my breadth of knowledge related to cuisine cultures, whereas I am ashamed to admit that I haven't yet tried the authentic Mediterranean style Italian biscuits. These biscuits are Bruttiboni and Biscotti, which are typical almond-flavoured biscuits. Bruttiboni refers to 'ugly but good', and Biscotti is twice-baked, oblong-shaped, dry, crunchy, and dipped in a drink.

Where you can eat it: Both of the biscuits are made in Prato, central Italy. I hear that one of my friends is learning art in Prato at the moment, so I decide to call him to buy some for me.

How you know about this food: Bruttiboni looks awful but tastes nice I guess, and Biscotti is defined as oven baked goods, so they are very dry and could be stored for long periods of time. I happened to read an article introducing the biscuits of Italy.

Why would you like to try it: It said this nonperishable food was particularly useful during long journeys and wars. Today the regional variations of the original are still adhered to it. Through my years, I have ventured far and wide except Italy, so I would love to have a taste of these strange biscuits. In Italy they are typically served as an after-dinner dessert with a Tuscan fortified wine called vin santo. Outside of Italy, they more frequently accompany coffee, including cappuccinos and lattes, or black tea. Therefore, the reason why I'm so curious about Italian biscuits is probably that all things I haven't tried hold a sense of mystery to me, making them seem more desirable.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a foreign food you would like to try.

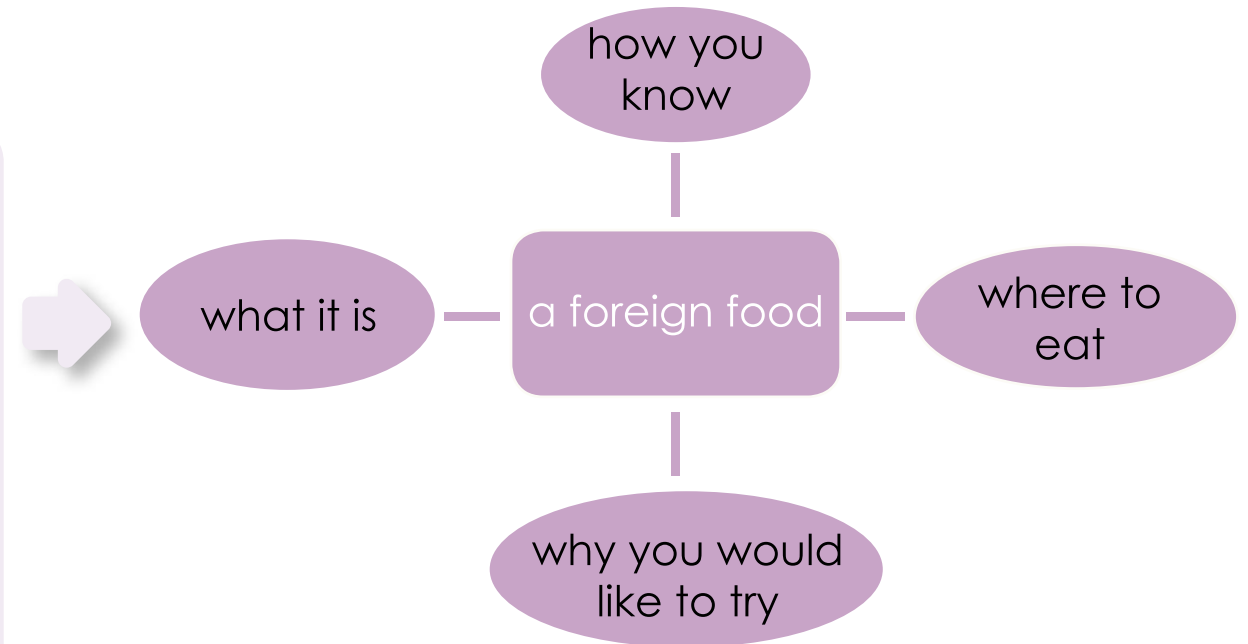

You should say:

what it is

where you can eat it

how you know about this food and explain why you would like to try it.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.

Describe a unique cuisine you know.

Describe a memorable experience travelling to other countries.

Review (2 minutes)

Key Words & Expressions

breathable material

legitimate

metrosexual

be defined as gastronome

nonperishable food

Key Sentences

Casual clothes allow one to be totally comfortable, which is usually a side effect of their loose fit and breathable material.

If these jobs did not have uniforms citizens couldn't confirm whether these workers are legitimate and safe to ask for lifesaving help.

I assume that for women clothes are valued more for their fashion appeal whereas for most men, not counting metrosexuals, clothes are more practical.

Bruttiboni looks awful but tastes nice I guess, and Biscotti is defined as oven baked goods, so they are very dry and could be stored for long periods of time.

As a gastronome, I have always prided myself upon my breadth of acquaintance of cuisine cultures, whereas I am ashamed to admit that I haven't yet tried the authentic Mediterranean style Italian biscuits.

It said this nonperishable food was particularly useful during long journeys and wars.

You will learn more about this topic in Lesson 2.