Topic 4—Lesson 2(下篇)

An open-air and street market

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe an open-air or street market which you enjoyed visiting.

You should say:

where the market is what the market sells

how big the market is

and explain why you enjoyed visiting it.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

Where the market is: Whilst I don't usually seek out street markets or fairs, I have frequented something akin to them in more recent years. The People's Republic Fair in Beijing comes once a year to this historical city and usually I make time to visit.

What the market sells: A fair is rather different from a common market in that it exists for the purpose of enjoyment as opposed to selling wares, but I suppose there still resides the need to trade or sell goods as it's a core tradition. Fairs in China are regarded as somewhat of a nuisance for the government as they clog up roads for days on end, but they can't be abolished provided that they open every year, since it's classified as a form of tradition and culture. The People's Republic Fair takes place at the Drum Tower and its history dates back a hundred years, though sadly its purpose has been tarnished recently and instead has become dominated by rides and confectionary stalls.

How big the market is: The fair itself is constrained to a small part of Beijing. It spreads all the way up to a street adjacent to the Drum Tower and considering the size of this area, it does take up a large portion of the town. Strangely enough, I didn't find it all that enjoyable as I'm sadly well beyond the age where a few bonbons can cheer me up.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

I: Introduction Sentence + P: Points (Point1, Point2...)

What do you think are the advantages of buying things from shops rather than markets?

I: Buying products from shops is usually more efficient, not necessarily because of the shop itself, but also due to the location and layout of the shops.

P1: First of all, each shop is specialised, carrying a certain type of products, whereas markets are diverse and have a large variety of products to choose from, which makes visiting shops a time-saving experience.

P2: Also, shops are normally gathered into specific areas, which makes them a more convenient place to make purchases when compared to markets.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

How does advertising influence what people choose to buy? Is this true for everyone?

 Advertising has a direct and indirect influence over people's purchasing habits. Advertising is a pervasive part of our modern world, especially with consumerism being the driving force behind the global economy. Advertising overtly informs people about products that they may or may not actually need. On another note these adverts can also influence people on a subconscious level by constantly reminding them about new and old products, thus influencing purchasing decisions. There is no escape from advertising's reach.

Do you think that any recent changes in the way people live have affected general shopping habits? Why is this?

 The recent advancements in technology have had drastic effects on people's shopping habits. People today live in a fast-paced world where everything is quick, convenient and increasingly online. Online shopping has made it easier than ever to order products and not just items produced locally, but things from all over the world, which can be delivered within 24 hours if you are inclined to want them to. This drastic change in access to items and people's way of life has created a new shopping dynamic.
