II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

1. Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (4 minutes)

Where do young guys usually live in China, in flats or houses?

Is there anything that needs to be improved in your flat/house?

What do you think houses will be like in the future?

The examiner will score your answer from the following aspects:

1. How good you are at keeping talking at the right speed and connecting your ideas together;
2. How much vocabulary you have and how well you use it;
3. How many structures you have and how well you use them;
4. How well you pronounce the language.

2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

bare

 Example: Since China has such an enormous population, many people live in urban environments. And for young guys the most convenient place to live is a flat. The reason why they mostly live in flats is that they have a lower price range and a wide variety of sizes; therefore, the most common type of flat for young men to live in within China is a bare studio flat with low rent.

run-down

 Example: I live in a fairly old and run-down flat that is in need of many repairs. The most pressing concern for me is my tile floors located in my bathroom. Due to constant exposure to water, the tiles have begun to crack, which can be dangerous as the edges are quite sharp.

cater

 Example: Due to people's growing concern with environmental issues, it is my belief that the home of the future will be powered by renewable resources. I envision most homes in the near future having solar panels on the roof with back-up batteries in the basement. I also think they will be connected to the Internet and powered by artificial intelligence that is specifically catered to everyone's personal preferences.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe an animal.

- What is the animal?
- Where can it be found?
- What is special about it?
- How do people feel about it?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What the animal is & where it can be found: I have always been fascinated and impressed by animals that manage to survive in extreme environments or climates, but I am equally enthralled with animals that inhabit the deep and vast ocean. The creatures I consider the most interesting and that can be found in all parts of the ocean, especially coastal regions, are sharks, or to be exact, the great white sharks.

What is special about it: Sharks are special for a multitude of reasons. They have extremely sharp senses and can catch the scent of blood in the water from miles away. They are also rulers of the oceans as nothing but man can really harm them, which makes them the top predator in their environments.

How people feel about it: I think many people misunderstand sharks, as they are as likely to attack a person as a person is to get struck by lightning, meaning it is a rare occurrence for shark attack to be reported. In most shark attack cases it is mostly a surfer being the victim, as from underwater the surfer with a board resembles many sharks' main source of food---seals. Due to these rare attacks and the fact that great white sharks look quite menacing, their conservation status is listed as vulnerable by the IUCN, which means without laws restricting the killing of the great white shark they could possibly become endangered.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

You should say:

what the animal is where it can be found

what is special about it and explain how people feel about it.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.
