Topic 3—Lesson 2(下篇)

A family friend

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe a friend of your family you remember from your childhood.

You should say:

who the person was

how your family knew this person

how often this person visited your family and explain why you remember this person.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

Who: Unfortunately, family friends in this day and age are somewhat difficult to observe. I mean the chances of befriending an entire family are slim, but especially so in an urban setting. Regardless of this fact, I would like to talk about a close friend of mine that has almost become a second member of my family. His name is Jake Wong.

How: We first met at a boarding house when we were teenagers. We were a bit of an odd-couple, as he was extremely extroverted almost to an annoying degree, whereas I was very coy and easygoing. He came to be close to my family when one summer he came to my hometown to stay. His outgoing nature quickly earned him the admiration of my entire family and it became impossible for my family to view him as anything other than a brother to me and a valuable extended member of our family.

How often: He would always eat dinner at our house and clear his plate after mealtime which pleased my mother greatly, and his charm led my father to believe that he would grow up to accomplish great things.

Why: My friend's amazing personality and ability to relate to everyone in our house has made him a memorable family friend.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

I: Introduction Sentence + P: Points (Point1, Point2...)

What kinds of influences can friends have on our lives?

I: Depending on the friend, he/she can either have a negative or positive influence on our lives, which can either be direct or indirect.

P1: A friend with good habits, such as reading books or always being on time, will exert a positive influence on us. That is to say, this particular individual sets a perfect example for us and urges us to follow suit. As time goes by, we can make personal improvements.

P2: However, if a friend we have has many unhealthy habits, such as smoking or drinking too much, this person will affect our lives in a negative way. For example, a friend that is always drinking might tempt us into drinking with them.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

What do you think makes someone a good friend to a whole family?

 Generally speaking, there are two qualities that constitute a good family friend. A person that equally values each family member can be the most likely candidate. So a family friend would inherently seek to offer assistance selflessly regardless of which family member needs aid. Also, in my opinion, a good friend of the family should be someone that could be depended upon in a crisis, such as a family emergency or a natural disaster.

How important would you say it is to have friends from different cultures?

 In a sense, I think it is very important to have a diverse group of friends, because it makes you a better person. Having a variety of opinions and modes of thought serves to open your eyes to your own biases, which makes you more intelligent. It can also make you more open to new ideas. In conclusion, it seems that having friends from different backgrounds, cultures, and belief systems can be an enlightening and life enriching experience.
