Unit 7 Culture

Topic 1—Lesson 2(下篇)

A festival that is important in your country

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe a festival that is important in your country.

You should say:

when the festival occurs

what you did during it

what you like or dislike about it and explain why this festival is important.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

When: Many people are familiar with the concept of Christmas in the modern era; however, its origins elude many adherents to this old festival. Christmas is a mixture of past traditions and customs of multiple beliefs, from the Roman pagan practices honouring the winter solstice to the Christian celebration of the birth of their savior and all the way to the modern day. Currently, this festival is more secular with the most important aspects demoted to gift giving.

What: This festival starts in the western world at the beginning of December when many people decorate the outside and inside of their homes in red and green colours and caps with the exchanging of gifts on the 25th of the same month.

What you like: My own favourite Christmas tradition is decorating the Christmas tree. Every year my family and I would choose a green spruce tree to put in our living room, and then we would begin with putting all manner of shapes and sizes of ornaments on it. This festival is important for families, as this is the time of year when many people will have consecutive days off, thus giving everyone ample time to visit loved ones. Christmas is also important for people who are less fortunate than others, because charities often-times see a flood in donations during this long Christmas festival.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

T: Topic Sentence + S: Supporting Details (Explanation/Examples)

Do you think it is good or bad to watch festivals on TV? Why?

T: I think watching festivals on television is a great way to enjoy these types of events.

S1: The first reason why it is advantageous to view festivities on TV is that it is much safer than when you attend them in person. When attending an actual festival in person, you run the risk of injury either on accident due to too much alcohol consumption or on purpose, perhaps because of a criminal that wants to rob you.

S2: Another reason watching festivals on TV should be considered better than watching them live is that if you watch it on television you are most possibly watching it in the comfort of your own home, and at home you are in an agreeable environment with access to all the basic amenities, which at a festival are usually marked up and extremely expensive.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

What role does the media play in festivals?

The media normally plays an outsider role when observing festivals. The media mostly just records the festival as a passive observer; however, this is vital as it allows the festival to be shared with millions of viewers that could not otherwise be present, so in a way the media is responsible for spreading the festive spirit that festivals inherently garner. I think it could also be said that the media helps spread the idea of festivals across different cultures.

How does globalisation affect different festivals around the world?

Globalisation has had a profound and dramatic effect on festivals celebrated all over the world, especially since most people tend to go with the flow. For one, many festivals have become unbound by their specific countries of origin and are often observed in countries that might possibly have a small population of people that celebrate it. For example, St. Patrick's day in the United States is an Irish holiday, yet people in the U.S. and all over the world now celebrate this holiday and the accompanying festivals.
