

Classic English Junior Level 8 - Unit 4 - Lesson 6

The Cornfield Volcano

We are going to learn about the Paricutin Volcano.

Warm-up*2 min

Which one of these two mountains would you climb? Why?

Reading 3 min

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

The Paricutin Volcano is one of the youngest volcanoes in the world. It is located three hundred and twenty-two kilometers west of Mexico City, the capital city of Mexico. It was named after the nearby town of Paricutin, which was destroyed by the eruptions of the volcano.

How far away is the Paricutin Volcano from Mexico City?

Reading

3 min

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

The volcano rose up from the ground in the middle of a cornfield in 1943. This is why people also call it “The Cornfield Volcano.” It only erupted from 1943 to 1952 and from then on became dormant, which means it is “asleep” and not very likely to erupt again.

Why do people call the Paricutin Volcano “The Cornfield Volcano”?
