

Classic English Junior Level 9 - Unit 6 - Lesson 6

Blue-Throated Macaws

We are going to learn about the endangered blue-throated macaw.

Warm-up*2 min

Do you have a pet? If you don't, what sort of pet would you most like to keep?

Reading 4 min

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

Blue-throated macaws are spectacular birds, displaying elegant forms and graceful movements. Their natural habitat is in the grasslands of Bolivia, where they nest in the palm trees. They are not forest-dwelling birds.

Can you describe the bird shown in the picture?

Reading*3 min

Read with the teacher and then answer the question below.

Blue-throated macaws are an endangered species. One of the main threats to blue-throated macaws is poaching. The poachers catch them and then illegally sell them to people who want macaws for pets.

What do poachers do?

Reading*3 min

Read with the teacher and then answer the questions below.

Scientists estimate that there are just over 300 blue-throated macaws left, so the Bolivian government has made laws forbidding people to catch and sell them. We can also help by refusing to buy them.

Would you buy a blue-throated macaw? Why?

Reading

4 min

Read with the teacher and then move to the Grammar Focus.

If people don't stop hunting and putting blue-throated macaws in cages, soon these birds will be completely extinct, and future generations won't be able to enjoy their beauty and grace.

Grammar Focus

- Type one conditional: The "if" clause uses the simple present tense, while the main clause uses the simple future tense. The "if" clause is used to express a certain condition that must happen for the action in the main clause to happen.
- Form: If + simple present, will + verb.
- E.g., If there is no rain this weekend, I will go hiking.
