

JOURNEY to the WEST 74

Curious Ear

Guanyin recited the Tight Headband spell.

“Good idea,” said one Wukong.

He pointed at the other.

The two monkeys were still fighting
when they arrived at the southern gate of Heaven.

Spirits and gods fled
as the two Wukongs fought all over Heaven.

“Stand still, both of you,” said the Jade Emperor.

One of the Wukongs swung at the other with his iron bar.

The two monkeys kept fighting
as they headed out of the palace.

Soon the two Wukongs were standing before the Judge of the Dead.

The judge nodded and opened the Directory.

The beast stared hard at the two Wukongs.