

JOURNEY to the WEST 80

The Small Thunderclap Monastery

ne afternoon Wukong and his companions were resting by a stream.

The Tang Monk took a bite of his peach.

Bajie moaned. “So we’ re going to have to climb a mountain at the end of this journey?”

Wujing’ s face broke into a smile, and everybody laughed, even Bajie.

A couple of hours later,
they were traveling up a mountain road.

Soon they were standing in front of the monastery.

Wukong shook his head. “It doesn’ t belong to Buddha.
Let’ s keep walking.”

The monk opened the monastery’ s door and entered.

The Tang Monk fell to his knees and bowed.

Bajie and Wujing bowed.

Before the monkey could finish yelling,
a large pair of cymbals fell from above.
