

JOURNEY to the WEST 85

Fire, Smoke, and Sand

Wukong landed on another mountain peak.

Wukong turned into a bug and flew back to the demon's mountain.

In a corner a woman sat in a chair.

She was crying.

The queen' s face broke into a smile.

“Oh, please do!

“I saw the bells,” said Wukong.

“He wears them around his neck.”

The monkey turned back into a bug and flew down another tunnel.

The demon climbed into bed and closed his eyes.

“Why is my neck so itchy?” he said.

Next the monkey turned the hairs into three fake bells.

Once he was outside, the monkey shouted.
“Return the queen right now!”