2. Read and learn the following key words and models for the IELTS Part 1. You are suggested to apply these words in the following steps. (4 minutes)

Key Words and Models

have an eye for Example: I really have an eye for travelling deals, so I often take time out of my hectic work schedule to visit far-off places. I will go anywhere as long as the place meets my list of requirements. First of all, the location should be away from my current city of residence; second, the place should provide many opportunities of meeting new people; third, the area should be surrounded by diverse scenery of a natural type.

cannot abide

Example: My other main requirement for travelling is that I do it alone and without a group. Travelling in a group means you are subject to the whims of the members. You must take part in whatever activities are best for the group and for me this is something I cannot abide. When travelling alone, I am my own master and can pick and choose whatever activities I want to take part in.

in this regard

Example: You don't really travel with an agency, but they are useful when planning trips for you though. In this regard travel agencies are a good resource to take advantage of if you don't mind spending the extra money on their services. Travel agencies oftentimes have extended knowledge on the best deals for transportation, hotels, and even activities at your destination. Their main responsibility is taking care of all the travel arrangements, which is useful and timesaving for certain people.

III. IELTS Speaking Part 2 (12 minutes)

1. Brainstorm. Plan your answers based on the given questions. (1 minute)

Describe a favourite dish that your family cooks for a special day or festival.

- What is the dish called?
- Which special day or festival is it cooked for?
- How is it cooked?
- Why is it a family favourite?

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What the dish is called: The dish is known as a pancake.

Which special day it is cooked for: Many are perhaps already familiar with the western tradition of Pancake Day, otherwise known as Shrove Tuesday. Now for a brief introduction as to why such a day exists, it originated from Christianity as were most British traditions. Pancake Day is precisely 40 days from Easter, during which it is customary to give up luxuries, so one can see Pancake Day as a sort of final feast before the harder times hit. As the name suggests, pancakes are usually eaten on this day, and they come in various forms, both savory and sweet with a wide range of toppings ranging from bacon to ice cream.

How it is cooked: It is an extraordinarily simple dish to prepare. One can make pancakes by mixing eggs, flour and milk to form a slightly runny batter, the consistence of which depends entirely on personal preferences. However, you tend to find that the American pancakes tend to be thicker and smaller, whilst their British counterparts share more similarity with the French crepes in that they are thinner and much larger. Usually pancakes are taken with a wedge of lemon and a light touch of sugar. However, over the years people have exchanged lemons and sugar for chocolate and more chocolate.

Why is it a family favourite: Undoubtedly, pancakes hold this title due to its versatility and all-round deliciousness. Everyone in my family is able to have the type of pancake that they most enjoy, whether it is topped with fruit and jelly or covered in syrup.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)
