Topic 2—Lesson 2(下篇)

Something you bought but haven't used quite often

IELTS Speaking Part 2 (10 minutes)

You will be given one minute to prepare to talk about the topic on the task card. You will have to talk for 1-2 minutes, and then the teacher will give you feedback for 2-3mins. (5 minutes)

Describe something you bought but haven't used quite often.

You should say:

what this thing is

when and where you bought it

why you bought it and explain why you didn't use it quite often.

Tips: During the first stage of Part 2, you don't need to talk. Keep the questions in mind and think them over.

2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

What it is & why you bought it: Recently I bought a blender for the sole purpose of making my own pre and post workout shakes.

When and where you bought it: Buying this item was really a spur-of-the-moment incident for me as I was taking a leisurely stroll through my local market with the intention of only purchasing a new usb disk, but my window shopping mentality got the better of me. I remember coming across the blender a few months ago, thinking that it would be an excellent addition to my kitchen and aide me in my goal to be healthier.

Why you didn't use it quite often: When I first started using the blender, I would use it up to three times a day; however, that amount of time quickly peaked and once the novelty of it wore off I used it less and less. Eventually, my blender was relegated to being used occasionally after a workout. But soon as winter approached and I stopped working out frequently, the blender became little more than an expensive paper weight. I figure that once I start working out more in the future and once it gets warmer, my blender might escape the idleness that has befallen it and once again make an appearance as part of my routine. Perhaps, I will even start using it to chop up ingredients to cook with. Of course this is all contingent on my ability to stop procrastinating and actually use this expensive kitchen appliance.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

1. Please answer the following question from Part 3. According to your answer, the teacher will give you feedback on how to improve your organisational skills. (5 minutes)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

T: Topic Sentence + S: Supporting Details (Explanation/Examples)

Do you think recycling programmes achieved their intended purposes?

T: I believe that in general most recycling programmes are successful.

S1: Public service announcements and poster-based campaigns effectively mobilise an otherwise inert population. They educate the public on ways to better protect the environment, which leads to increased recycling all year long.

S2: The fact that these recycling programmes take place in cities all over the world signifies that they must be successful in one way or the other.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

Key Words and Models

Do you think recycling is overemphasized or not?

If anything, I feel that we underemphasize recycling. The mindset of “waste not, want not” has been emphasized by the Chinese culture since the recycling movement, an ideal which is easily transferable to the ideals of environmental protection. However, waste pollution, especially white pollution, is still a major issue in today's world, which, to a certain extent, is caused by the lack of recycling consciousness, so emphasis on recycling should be strengthened further.

Do you think we should put more priority on recycling? Why or why not?

I definitely think that we, as a global community, should put more priority on recycling. People produce too much waste and with the global population reaching 7.4 billion, we simply cannot afford to not to recycle. If recycling is not prioritised in the next decade, there might be a global shortage of the necessary components used to make a wide variety of products. The shortage could potentially harm the fragile global economic system.

Key Sentences

Buying this item was really a spur-of-the-moment incident for me, as I was taking a leisurely stroll through my local market with the intention of only purchasing a new usb stick, but my window shopping mentality got the better of me.

Of course this is all contingent on my ability to stop procrastinating and actually use this expensive kitchen appliance.

Recycling public service announcements and poster-based propaganda campaigns have increased sharply over the past decade, making it fair to say that recycling has become a big deal.

However, waste pollution, especially white pollution, is still a major issue in today's world, which, to a certain extent, is caused by the lack of recycling consciousness, so emphasis on recycling should be strengthened further.

If recycling is not prioritised in the next decade, there might be a global shortage of the necessary components used to make a wide variety of products.
