What: The dish I like to eat the most is the one with three vegetables: stir fried potato, green pepper and aubergine. It is called Disanxian.

Where: When I was little, my mom often cooked it for dinner. Since now I live far away from my parents and I don't know how to cook it, I usually order it in restaurants when I feel like eating it.

What the meal is made of: It's a common dish in the north part of China and you can have it in nearly every restaurant in Beijing. This dish is a combination of potatoes, green peppers and aubergines. To make this dish, one needs to cut them into pieces and fry these three ingredients in oil.

Why you like it: It's a traditional dish that I have been eating since I was young. This dish is sweet, and I have a sweet tooth. Besides, I am a big fan of potatoes and I love every dish that is made with potatoes. Isn't it amazing that you can have three kinds of vegetables in one dish?
