Who: My neighbour Manny was a friend of my family.

How and how often: Manny and his father moved to our community when he was around 10 years old. Manny is at the same age as me and we went to the same elementary school and middle school. Manny used to visit our house after school every day since Manny's father always worked late and we lived door to door.

Why: I remember Manny very well because we spent nearly every day together, at school and after school. He played an important role in my childhood. We became good friends and we talked about everything under the sun to each other. He acted mature even though he was not a grown-up. My father used to say that he learned a lot from Manny through Manny's polite manner to others. Manny was a friend of all my family members. Although we are in different universities now, I still contact him now and then.
