

JOURNEY to the WEST 29

The Magic Sleeve

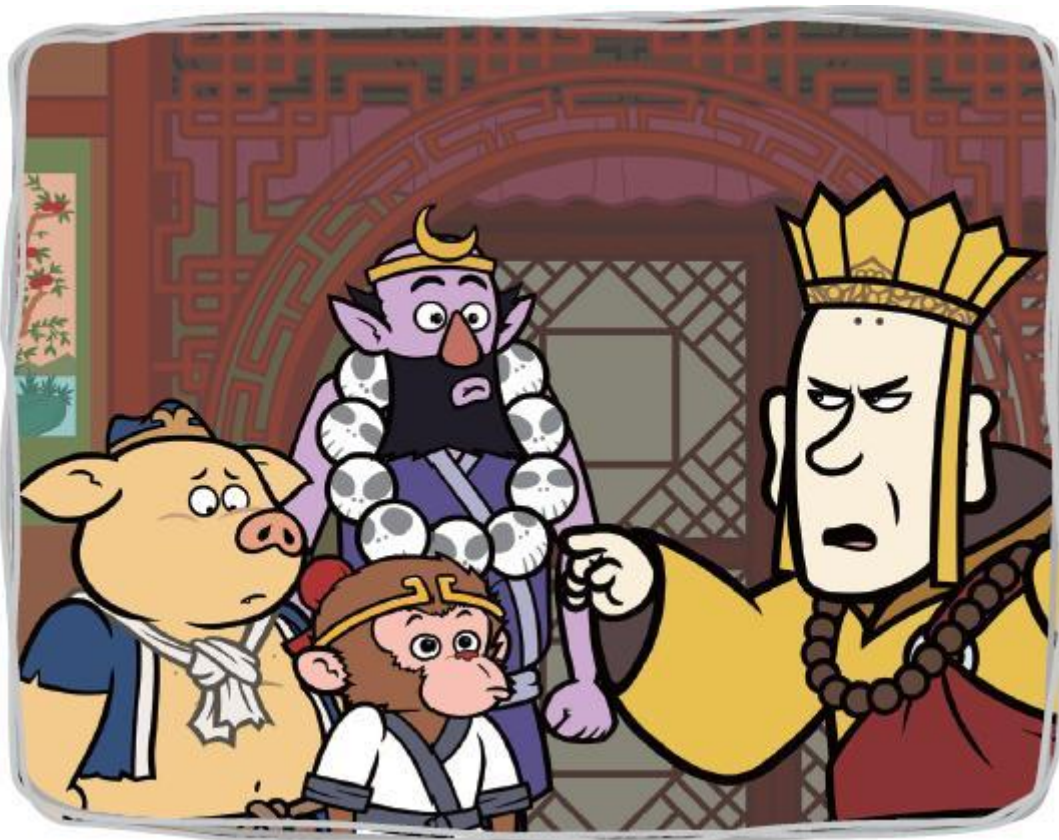

“The tree is dead!” cried one priest. . .

“He’ s a spirit,” said the first priest. . .

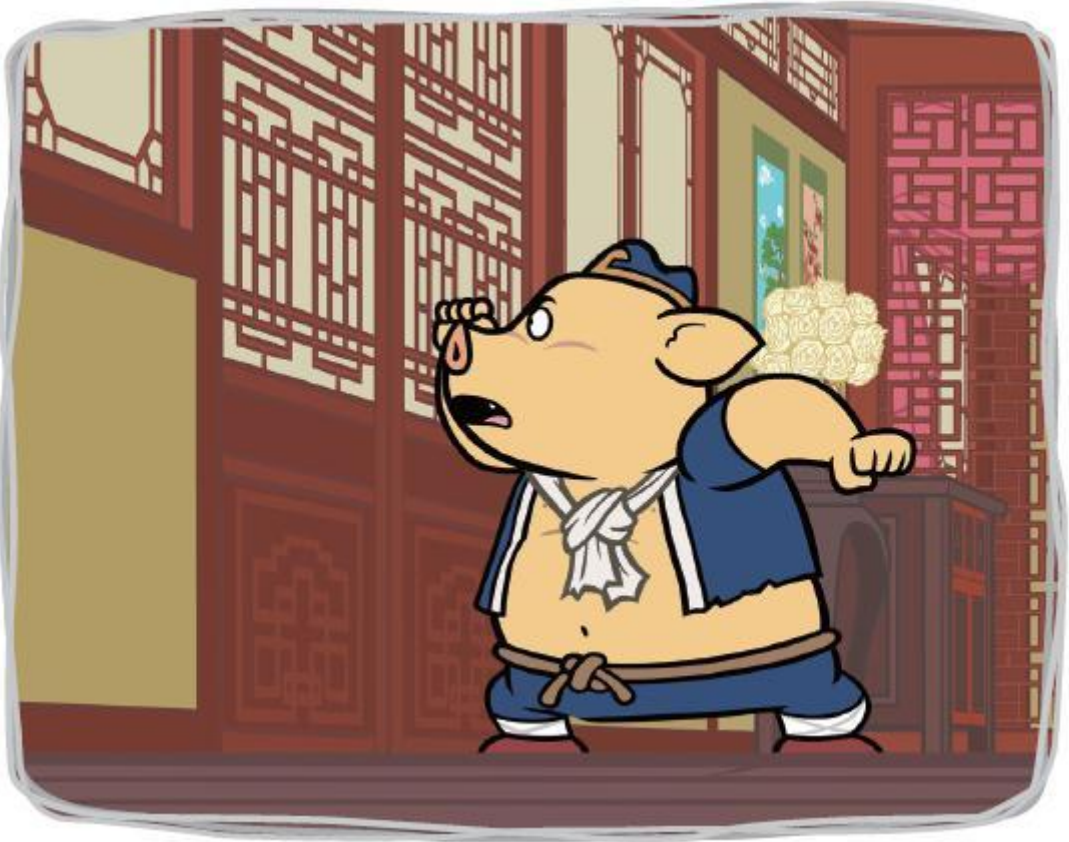

Inside the Tang Monk was scolding his companions. . .

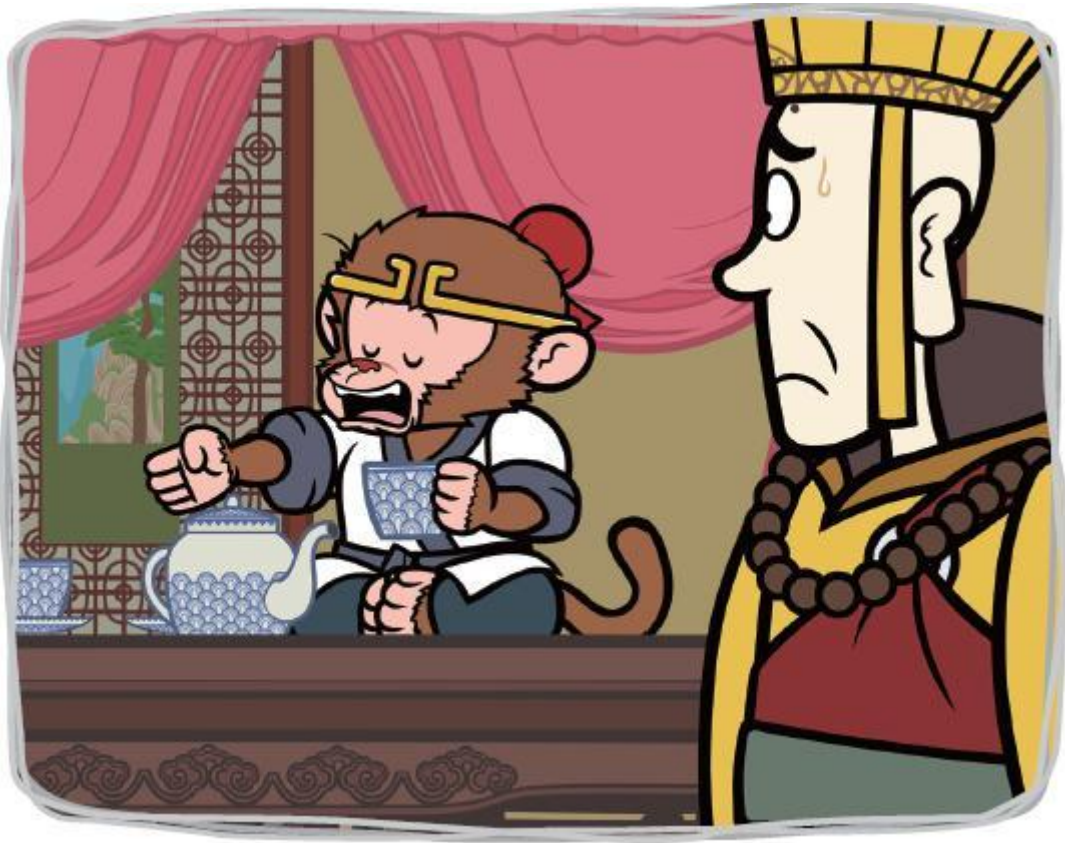

“Thank you for your apology,” said Bajie. . .

The priests led the group to a small room in the abbey. . .

“What kind of hosts are you? You locked us in!” cried Bajie. . .

“I knocked down their ginseng tree” said Wukong. . .

The four travelers escaped that night and headed west. . .

The next day they saw an old man on the road. . .

The Great Immortal rose into the air and landed on a cloud. . .

The Great Immortal waved his arm. . .
