the Invisible 'r'

'wore/war' has an /o/ sound before /ər/: / wo•ər/

'where/wear' is similar to wore/war, but with /ε/ before /ər/: / wε•ər/

Read the following sentences and pay attention to the troublesome 'r'.

1. The host wore a wool coat.
2. What are you going to wear for tomorrow's party?

II. IELTS Speaking Part 1 (8 minutes)

Extend your answer to 3-4 sentences. It's easier to get 7.5.

Key Words and Models

be dedicated to

 Example: I am dedicated to using the Internet as a research tool. I normally surf the Internet for up to four hours a day. I usually choose to surf the Internet in the morning while drinking my coffee; however, I also search the net in the evenings as well.

 Example: I mainly use the Internet as a source for researching various topics I find interesting. Normally, these topics are much more convenient to find on the Internet rather than at a traditional library. I also surf the Internet for entertainment purposes. For example, I will often comb the web in search of funny anecdotes or videos, which put me into a good mood.

glaring

 Example: The differences between these two devices are glaring. Laptops are portable and therefore can be taken almost anywhere the user needs. Conversely, desktops are stationary and must remain in one place. Also, when compared to desktops, laptops are generally not as capable and lack enough power to complete more intensive tasks, such as video editing or animation creation.

2.1 Here is a model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (8 minutes)

Model 1

What the company is: A small, but fast growing technology company I am starting to take notice of, is Xiaomi Inc.. This company was founded in 2010 and its headquarters are located in Beijing.

What the company does: This small company sells a variety of electronic devices and has recently become the world's fourth largest smartphone maker. Besides their extremely popular line of cellphones, they also make tablets, smart televisions, routers, and even air purifiers.

How you know about it: Whenever I surf the Internet I always read news related to current trends in technology. This affords me the opportunity to learn about what devices are popular and how reliable they are for the average consumers. Recently, Xiaomi has been all over the news sites, because they are seen as a more affordable alternative to other high-end technology companies and have even dominated in developing markets, such as India and the Philippines.

Why it has been successful: The reason this company has been so successful is that they pay great attention to the design of their products. They are aware that while considering to purchase an electronic device, consumers care as much about its looks as they do about its functionality, which has allowed the relatively small Chinese company to skyrocket in popularity both home and abroad.

You are required to talk for the full 2 minutes.

2.2 Imagine you are a candidate in the IELTS test. The teacher is an examiner. Please answer the questions below with what you have learned to develop your IELTS answers. (3 minutes)

Describe a small company you know that has been successful.

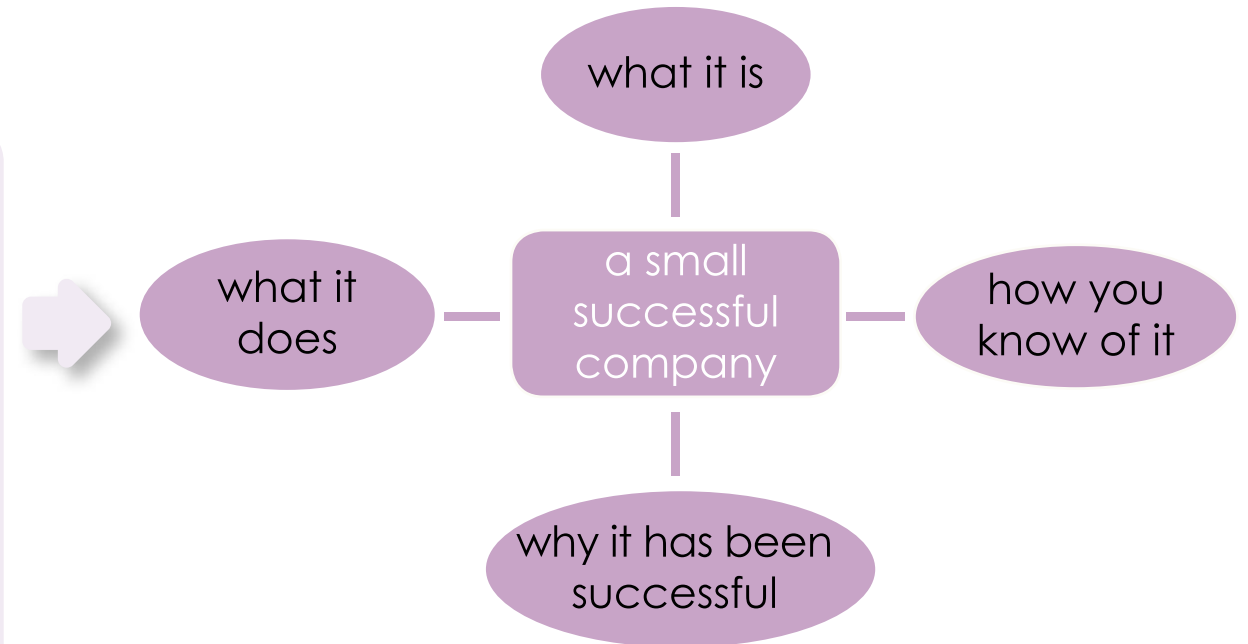

You should say:

what the company is

what the company does

how you know of it and explain why it has been successful.

Homework: Please use the model for these two topics for further practice.
