2.3 Here is another model for the IELTS Speaking Part 2. We will focus on the words and expressions highlighted and in red below. (5 minutes)

Model 2

What the game was: The iconic game of chess is what I would like to discuss. It is a game that appears simple at first glance, but is actually incredibly insightful. The game is governed by a simple set of rules and regulations which entitles beginners to ease into it without too much knowledge; however, advancing further can prove to be the most difficult aspect of learning to play chess. I won't delve into the details, but it's said there are an infinite number of plays available.

Who you used to play it with: My old English tutor taught me this game, and he was my first opponent. At school I furthered my skills by playing with my classmates.

How you played it: Chess doesn't require any special infrastructure, just two players and a board. One could even fashion the pieces out of various day-to-day items. For example, students would play a version where the pieces were actually alcohol bottles, and losing them meant they had to take a drink.

Why you liked this game: I like this game seeing as it's stimulating and engaging. It's said that it also trains the mind in the art of tactical thinking, which is vital to many professions. Also, the depth of the game allows for additional studying and experimentation. Lastly, I've been playing chess ever since I was a child, and have steadily grown attached to this game.

IV. IELTS Speaking Part 3 (10 mins)

How to organise your answer in Part 3:

Which do you prefer, indoor activities or outdoor activities?

I: This really depends on where I happen to be and what the weather is like.

P1: When I'm in an urban environment, I usually prefer indoor activities; however, if the weather is nice in spring or in autumn, with fresh air and warm sunshine, I will definitely engage in all sorts of outdoor activities.

P2: If I am in a rural environment, no matter what the weather conditions are, I will always prefer to do things outside rather than inside, because I love the feeling that nature gives me, positive and uplifting.

2. You will learn some key words and expressions from these questions. Pay attention to the structure of the underlined sentences, and the words in red. (5 minutes)

What are the advantages of outdoor activities?

 Outdoor activities have varied advantages, the best of which are reserved for people living in rural areas or in remote cities. In these places, the open air is free from harmful air pollution plaguing industrial cities. Melding your spirit and body to nature can reduce the psychological pressure from everyday life benefit your physical health. Another glaring advantage is that these activities do not require partners; therefore, it is pleasing for people that prefer solitude.

What is your favourite outdoor activity?

 My favourite outdoor activity is by far hiking. Not only is this an excellent form of physical exercise, but hiking in and around nature allows me to indulge in another exclusive activity of mine, bird watching. Bird watching gives me loads of self-discipline and really makes me become one with the world around me. Being able to combine these two outdoor activities helps me to get more pleasure out of my weekly trips to the countryside.
