Model 1

What: The company I wish to discuss, although small, has been extremely successful in its industry. The name of the company is SpaceX.

What it does: SpaceX is an American aerospace manufacturer and space transport services company.

How you know of it: I first learned about this company by surfing the internet. I often find myself searching scientific websites for interesting news. SpaceX caught my attention in the headlines for being the first company to have a privately funded rocket reach orbit. The list of achievements SpaceX has accomplished for private space exploration are numerous and have helped to make this small company successful.

Why: The main reason for the company's success is due to the founder Elon Musk's vision. From the very beginning, he has envisioned creating reusable rockets for space exploration that would eventually lead to the establishment of a colony on Mars. Another reason why it has been successful is that it has helped to trigger a revolution in space exploration and the eventual creation of a new industry, space tourism.
